

American Muslims Breaking Barriers IN POLITICS 2020

Introduction

Assalamualaikum,

Peace be with you. The Council on American-Islamic Relations (CAIR), the nation's largest Muslim civil rights and advocacy organization, Jetpac, a representation-driven organization that trains American Muslims who want to run for office, and MPower Change, the largest Muslim-led social and racial justice organization in the United States, have partnered to highlight and document a list of candidates who ran for office in 2020, including in primary elections. It is our intention that this report serves as a resource and inspiration for other Muslims and people of color to run for public office in the United States.

American Muslims are running for office in higher numbers than ever before, and this trend is expected to continue to rise with the many historic firsts we have seen across the country since 2017. A record 168 candidates were on 2020 ballots across 28 states and Washington D.C., which is the highest number since Jetpac, CAIR, and MPower Change started mapping the electoral progress of politicians who identify as Muslim.

The candidates who have been running since 2017, win or lose, have continued to build coalitions in their communities after their campaigns ended, which has resulted in more Muslims being engaged in issue-based organizing on the local level. Muslim representation is still often neglected by policymakers, but the increase of candidates and community organizers is increasingly forcing elected officials and the media to include our perspective in the narrative on healthcare, the economy, immigration, and every other issue impacting American life.

Increased political representation and higher civic engagement go hand in hand. The high level of voter registration and get out the vote efforts being organized by Muslim-led groups and elected officials in 2020 reflects this symbiotic relationship. For instance, CAIR's most recent exit poll found that 84% of Muslims voted in the general election signaling their significant influence on the outcome of the election. Muslim-led organizations did incredible work on voter registration, relational organizing, and election protection training in 2020 that could have decided close races in Arizona, Georgia, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin.

This report only includes preliminary analysis of the 2020 results. In the following weeks, we will issue an comprehensive final report that will include a final list of all candidates, a section on the unique challenges that Muslim candidates face, interviews with 2020 candidates, and recommendations for the American Muslim community on how we can better support candidates from our community.

NIHAD AWAD
CAIR NATIONAL EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

“The American Muslims who ran for office and won were able to do so by building grassroots campaigns made up of diverse coalitions fighting for a just future in which every Muslim American’s civil rights and freedoms can be upheld and protected. Now that the election is over, we all need to work to formulate public policies that promote freedom and justice.”

MOHAMMED MISSOURI
JETPAC EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Increasing our political representation is a critical part of defeating the violent rise of Islamophobia here and around the world because it forces elected officials and the media to include our perspective in the narrative on healthcare, the economy, criminal legal justice system, and every other issue impacting American life. I'm inspired by this new generation of Muslim political activists who are changing our community's civic engagement through effective relational organizing to build diverse coalitions in the fight for economic and racial justice.

LINDA SARSOOR

MPOWER CHANGE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

“Muslim Americans are celebrating the election of members of our community across this country – from the school boards to the halls of Congress. No matter what happens on the presidential level, we will continue to build power, engage voters and focus on down ballot races because that’s where the real impact on our lives lies.”

KEY RESEARCH FINDINGS

A total of 168

Muslim Candidates in 28 states and Washington D.C. ran for public office in 2020, the highest number we have recorded.

108

were either not elected or are in races that are too close to call due to a large number of ballots yet to be counted.

A total of 22

Muslims ran for congress in 14 states. 5 made it to the general election with 3 winning reelection. First-time candidate, Mike Siegel, lost a close race to represent the 10th Congressional District in Texas.

13

Muslims won municipal seats.

In total
31

incumbents were re-elected in 2020 with no one losing their seats.

60

were successfully elected to office. In comparison, 49 Muslim candidates were elected to public office in 2019, and 57 in 2018 (the previous high mark in our record).

16

ran for county positions in 10 states, with 6 winning their election in 5 states.

47

Muslims ran for state legislatures in 22 states with 22 winning. At least six made history as the first ever elected to a state office in their state.

Of the 37

candidates who ran for a seat on a School Committee or Board of Education, 5 successfully winning seats. The number of elected candidates could rise as votes continue to be counted.

ran for judicial seats with 4 winning.

Although American Muslims are running across the country, some states stood out: 27 ran in Minnesota; 22 in California; 22 in New Jersey; 19 in Michigan; and 9 in Massachusetts

U.S. REPRESENTATIVE ANDRE CARSON
(D-INDIANA)

“It’s an honor to once again be elected to serve the people of Indiana’s 7th Congressional District. Serving Hoosiers in Congress is the honor of my life and a responsibility I don’t take lightly. Regardless of the outcome in other races, I pledge to continue working with my colleagues on both sides of the aisle on the critical issues that matter to the people of Indianapolis. Our country, state and city are facing unprecedented challenges, and we must come together in order to overcome them. 11/4/2020”

U.S. REPRESENTATIVE RASHIDA TLAIB
(D-MICHIGAN)

“To all my #13District residents: Thank you for your faith in me to continue fighting for our Western Wayne + Downriver + Detroit + Highland Park communities. I will never back down because you deserve someone who won't sell you out and will always stay #rootedincommunity. 11/4/2020”

U.S. REPRESENTATIVE ILHAN OMAR
(D-MINNESOTA)

“We are building a movement that sees my struggle as inherently tied to your struggle, and sees a world where all workers can be uplifted. Together. Today’s vote - the results of this election - are not the end. This is just the beginning. 11/3/2020”

RE-ELECTION SPOTLIGHT

In total, thirty-one incumbents were re-elected in 2020 with no one losing their seats. The names listed below are the American Muslims who were entrusted by their constituents to continue serving the public.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE-ELECT MADINAH WILSON-ANTON (D-DELAWARE)

In Delaware, Madinah Wilson-Anton will be the first practicing Muslim lawmaker to serve in the state's General Assembly and the first Muslim to hold the local state House seat when she is inaugurated as the State Representative for the 26th district.

"I think if you look at the teachings of the prophet and how their community at that time governed themselves, it's just very obvious that it's important to be involved in public life," says Wilson-Anton. "Also, it sends a message, when people see a Muslim woman involved in public life. 'Well, maybe my stereotypes about Muslim women aren't accurate.' The idea that Muslim women are quiet and at home, that they don't have a voice, they're oppressed and all that, I don't know how anyone could look at me and say that." - Madinah Wilson-Anton, 10/29/2020 (The Review)

STATE REPRESENTATIVE-ELECT SAMBA BALDEH (D-WISCONSIN)

In Wisconsin, Samba Baldeh became the first Muslim elected to the Wisconsin State Assembly, and the first Black man to represent Dane County in the legislature.

"And now we will build back better and make sure every American has a chance to realize their potentials & be proud of this nation again..." - Samba Baldeh, 11/7/2020

STATE REPRESENTATIVE-ELECT CHRISTOPHER BENJAMIN (D-FLORIDA)

Christopher Benjamin won the race to represent the 107th District in the Florida House of Representatives, becoming the first Muslim American elected to any state office in the Sunshine State.

"It's overwhelming. I didn't campaign with that in mind. This election was the culmination of my studies in political science, my bringing in my community and understanding its needs, and my community having confidence in me to lead in this way. Being the first Muslim ever to be elected statewide is just icing on the cake."

- Christopher Benjamin, 11/5/2020 (Religion News Service)

STATE REPRESENTATIVE-ELECT IMAN JODEH (D-COLORADO)

Iman Jodeh, the State Representative-elect for the 41st District in the Colorado House of Representatives, will be the first Muslim lawmaker in the state's history.

"I have lived in Aurora for 35 years, almost my entire life. I'm the daughter of Palestinian immigrants and refugees, and small business owners and teachers...Six years of advocacy at the legislature has allowed me to advocate for all communities, whether that's women and families, immigrants and refugees, equal pay for equal work, or criminal justice reform. I think being a representative that is a practicing Muslim, that is an Arab American, brings a different lens to that representation, but for me, leaning on that track record of advocacy for all people is what I plan to continue at the legislature."

- Iman Jodeh, 11/10/2020 (CBS Denver)

STATE REPRESENTATIVE-ELECT FADY QADDOURA (D-INDIANA)

Fady Qaddoura became the first Muslim to win an election to the Indiana State Legislature when he won the race for the 30th District in the State Senate.

"We did it! Only in America can someone immigrate to this country, work hard, and earn the trust of tens of thousands of voters to become the first Muslim State Senator in Indiana's history." - Fady Qaddoura, 11/4/2020

STATE REPRESENTATIVE-ELECT MAUREE TURNER, (D-OKLAHOMA)

Mauree Turner, the State Representative-elect for the Oklahoma 88th District, will be the first Muslim lawmaker elected to the state's legislature.

"I didn't need a legislative seat to care for and work in my community. Community organizers rarely need seats to provide for our neighbors, friends, and family. but the nation is changing and should serve all of our people. You shouldn't have to have a degree to have healthcare or a well paying job. You shouldn't have to work yourself into an early grave just to survive. We know that and we're here to change that. We're here to build an American that works for everyone. Nothing About Us Without Us." - Mauree Turner, 11/5/2020

COMMISSIONER-ELECT NIDA ALLAM
(D-NORTH CAROLINA)

Nida Allam made history by being elected as North Carolina's first Muslim Woman elected official. She serves on Durham County's Board of Commissioners.

"Durham it's official. Tonight you've not only voted for me to serve as your next County Commissioner, you elected me as the TOP vote getter! Thank you for making history with me!"

- Nida Allam, 11/3/2020

COMMISSIONER-ELECT NAFISA FAI (D-OREGON)

Nafisa Fai was elected to the Washington County Commission in Oregon making her the commission's first Black and Muslim member in history.

"Thank you so much to the voters of District 1 for giving me this opportunity to represent our community. Together, we can have a tremendous impact on the lives of our residents. A refugee girl from Somalia is now elected to be a Washington County Commissioner." - Nafisa Fai, 11/4/2020
